Notice to Mill Owners.
THE undersigned having purchased one half of the right of making, vending and using VALENTINE'S PATENT CAST IRON WATER WHEELS, for the United States, have at a great expense fitted up patterns for casting twenty one different sizes of these Wheels, which are particularly adapted to the various heads of water for which they may be wanted.
Upwards of two hundred of these Wheels have been put in operation in this State within the past year, giving perfect satisfaction to the purchasers.
A model of these Wheels was tested at Lowell Mass the past summer by a Board of Engineers composed of Ithamar A Beard and James B Francis, Esq of Lowell, and E A Straw Esq of Manchester, and it was afterwards placed in the hall of the Mechanics Fair at their last exhibition in Boston and received the only diploma awarded on water wheels.
We annex an extract from the certificate of E A Straw Esq one of the board of engineers giving a statement of the experiments made with the model at Lowell, which establishes the great superiority of the "Valentine Wheel" over any of the kind in use.

"MANCHESTER, July 11, 1844.
Dear Sir —I send you the results of several experiments made at Lowell the other day with your Model of Valentine's Patent Reacting Wheel. I consider the trial to have been a very fair one and the results are certainly very creditable to your wheel; I think they prove conclusively that your wheel is at least 50 per cent stronger than any of the Tub or Reacting Wheels now in general use.
The coefficient of effect, or per centage of power derived from well constructed Breast or Overshot Wheels acting under favorable circumstances is usually reckoned at 66 per cent and that of Undershot Tub and Reacting Wheels at 33 per cent, but in nine cases out of ten in practice I think it will be found that the power derived from Breast Wheels will not exceed 60 per cent of the power applied, or the power derived from Tub Undershot or Reacting Wheels 25 per cent of the power applied; and ed I know of well constructed Tub Wheels acting apparently under favorable circumstances that do not give a coefficient of effect equal to 20 per ct.
With the results of your wheel before us it needs no arguments to show how vastly superior it is to such Wheels as I have mentioned. The Jewett result obtained from your wheel gives us about 4 per cent of the power applied which is nearly double of the power that could be derived from the common wheels before mentioned acting under the same circumstances.
I have added nothing to the coefficient of effect for the friction of the wheel and apparatus which according to our measure of it was 40 lbs or 1 10th of the heaviest weight raised. If this were added as perhaps it should be to get at the actual effect of your wheel it would give as the result of all the trials a coefficient of effect of 50 per cent which I have no hesitation in saying is a result that may be obtained from any wheel similar to the model, well constructed and acting under favorable circumstances.
Experiments Nos 1 2 and 3 were made without back water. Ex No 1 100 lbs lifted 9½ feet—full 5 08 feet—effect 12 8 10 per cent 2 100 lbs lifted 5¼ feet—full 3 08 ft—effect 41 9 10 per cent 3 100 lbs lifted 9 12 ft—full 5 7 feet—effect 42 5 10 per cent.
The mean of experiments No 1 2 and 3 would be 42 4 10 per cent without the friction in all an average of about 47 per cent which has been rated as the effect of your wheel when working free of back water.
In experiments Nos 4 5 and 6 the wheel was immersed in back water, but was very evidently overloaded.
In experiments Nos 7 8 and 9 wheel was immersed in back water.
Ex No 7 100 lbs lifted 9 1 2 feet high—full 1 00 ft—effect 47 3 10 per cent 8 96 lbs lifted 9 1 2 ft—full 4 03 ft—effect 56 5 10 per cent 9 296 lbs lifted 9 1 2 feet—full 1 01 feet—effect 48 1 10 per cent.
The mean of experiments 7 8 and 9 would be 46 6 10 per cent besides the friction in all an average of about 53 per cent which may be considered as the effect of your wheel when working just immersed in back water.
E A STRAW, Civil Engineer of the Manchester M Co Power Co."

Dr. S. O. Richardson's CELEBRATED SHERRY WINE BITTERS.
THE Proprietor of this Medicine offers to the Public as a result of an extensive practice and a thorough investigation of the laws which govern the human system.
It cannot be denied by those who have become acquainted with the singular virtues of these Bitters that they possess great pre-eminence over all others now in use, for the diseases which they profess to cure.
It is a well known fact that most diseases arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels in youthful, adult and declining life.
"The stomach crammed with every dish,
A tomb of roast and boiled and flesh and fish,
Where bile and wind, and phlegm and acid, jar,
And all the man is one intestine war."
The extensive symptoms which attend indigestion are so very many [illegible] that the liver, body is the most [illegible] Loss of Appetite, Languor, Drowsiness, Wandering Pains, Headache, Lowness of Spirits, &c.
And these in their turn give birth to Dyspepsia, Piles, Fevers, Inflammatory Humors, Coughs and a host of diseases which embitter life and poison all sources of enjoyment.
The distinguished character of these Bitters is most striking, their operation being more or less powerful according to the violence of the disease. When used in appropriate quantity, in cases of slight derangement of the Stomach and Bowels caused by costiveness or a slight bilious difficulty and the like, where nature needs assistance to prevent more serious consequences they will be scarcely felt.
On the contrary, in obstinate cases, they frequently operate more powerfully, ensuring two or three evacuations daily, until the circulating fluid becomes purified and the constitution is restored to a state of health and renewed vigor.

EXCELLENT WATER POWER FOR MILLS AND MANUFACTURING PURPOSES.
THE excellent water power at the outlet of the Great East Pond in the town of Newport County of Penobscot and State of Maine is now offered for sale in such parts as purchasers may desire. This water power combines three essential advantages an unfailing supply of water, the pond covering a large portion of the town and raised with but little expense, or damage free from all risk as to freshets, and it never freezes. It is situated in the heart of rapidly increasing and thriving agricultural county and is only twenty three miles distant from the city of Bangor.
There is now situated on this outlet a Tannery, an Iron Foundery and Machine Shop, and a Saw Mill and a Grist Mill.
The owners wish to dispose of a privilege sufficient for driving a large amount of machinery, and also of several acres of land adjoining, or of portions of the same to be used for various manufacturing purposes.
It is believed that the advantages here offered are rarely equalled and never excelled, and that the terms of sale will be such as to be worthy the attention of capitalists and others who may wish to engage in manufactures.

☞ Our neighbor of the Democrat is greatly surprised that any portion of the people of New England should object to the annexation of Texas, because, as he endeavors to show, we are to have additional markets for our manufactures and agricultural products, and new employment for our shipping His argument appears directly to our selfishness only The sum of it all is, we can make money out of annexation, and therefore we ought to be in favor of it — It will be a first rate speculation, and who will fail to improve so favorable a chance to make his fortune

The moral sense of our New England people is not very highly complimented by this kind of reasoning We do not wonder that foreigners form any opinions of us as a nation, from such selfish appeals to our acquisitiveness, should regard the yankees as a mercenary Mammon loving people How could it be otherwise? We are aware that this kind of reasoning that the Democrat urges has had its influence that it has mainly contributed to reconcile the democracy of the North to the consummation of a measure which, when first proposed, was repugnant to the moral sense Avarice and party devotion had not then entirely destroyed the sense of right Two years ago, there was scarcely a paper in the Northern States that ventured to advocate annexation, and many of the democratic papers, that are now foremost in defence were then most violent in their denunciation of a measure then representated to be fraught with disastrous consequences to the prosperity of the North, and it is one of the most lamentable indications of a want of high moral sentiment in politicians, that they could so easily be induced to sacrifice, at the beck of the leaders principles, which their consciences must have told them, were right

Suppose the principles, upon which the Democrat defends the annexation of Texas were carried out in practice in the private intercourse of man with man what kind of society should we have What would hinder any man from doing what seemeth to him right in his own eyes or in other words, what would prevent his own individual pecuniary interests irrespective of the rights of others, and of the usages of society It is the principle, that might makes right How long could society exist, if no higher power than mere pecuniary interest were recognized And yet, if we understand the argument of the Democrat this is the only principle upon which it defends the annexation of Texas

We have in this article hitherto only considered the principle the mere selfish principle upon which the Democrat defends annexation We do not deny that the addition of new territory the opening of new ports may be favorable to the increase of trade This is too palpably evident to require any argument It has never been denied so far as we are aware But an increase of trade the extension of territory and the increase of population are not the only or the principal means, by which a nation's prosperity may be secured Rome in the time of the Cæsars had a more extensive empire, a larger population, and greater and more extended commerce, than at any time before — But the elements of decay, even amidst all this gilded prosperity, amidst all these external signs of greatness were at work Luxury and extravagance with all their accompanying vices were undermining the only foundation upon which a nation can long prosper As her virtue declined, as labor was thought fit only for servile hands her prosperity vanished, and she became the prey of anarchy and misrule

Now as the annexation of Texas was opposed a short time ago by the democracy of the North, and even by the Democrat itself on the ground, that it was calculated to extend and perpetuate the institution of Slavery the bane and curse of every nation that has tolerated it, and was therefore wrong, and because the democracy now advocate and defend annexation on the ground merely, that it will increase our commerce, abandoning the principle on which they formerly opposed it, it indicates a retrograde movement in morality, a subserviency to mere party interest, anything but favorable to the continued prosperity, to the preservation of the good order and virtue of our people

Will the Democrat undertake to show, that the annexation of Texas, in the manner in which it has been effected is not a complete triumph of the Slavocracy? That it is not so considered by them? Will it undertake to prove, that annexation was not advocated by them as a means, and the only remaining means of securing extension and perpetuation of Slavery, and therefore, that they consider this end is now gained? Admitting this to be the case, and we do not now see how it can be disproved, will not the evils and wrongs growing out of the extension and perpetuation of Slavery more than counterbalance the petty advantages to trade and commerce arising from annexation? For it must be remembered, that this trade is not so much clear gain Our commerce with Texas, as an independent nation, would be very considerable, nearly as great as it is if it were annexed And besides, if it should continue independent, Texas would draw to itself a large portion of our inter and more pro-slavery population, that it would be an disadvantage to us to lose - But we have no time to continue this subject; nor is it probably of any use The deed is consummated for good or for ill, and we could not let the matter pass upon which quarterly we defend ourselves from notice, especially as the remarks have reference to the opposition of the Whigs

☞ A correspondent of the Belfast Signal states that Mr Oliver Haley, of Frankfort, has been in the habit for years past, of visiting the Islands in the bay for the purpose of procuring fish, and that about ten days ago he was at the Fox Islands, procured a heavy load of fish and started for home alone, and has not been heard from since Some articles belonging to himself and the boat, have been picked up

☞ According to the last census of the population of Russia, the serfs amounted to 42,000, 000—15,000,000 of whom belonged to the crown and 27,000 000 to private individuals The entire popula tion of the empire exceeded 53,000, 000

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

PORTLAND Aug 5, 1845

Boston has lately assumed the most gracious air and manner towards Maine The news by the Cambria operated like a charm on the Brokers of Boston and New York The application, to the corporators of the Atlantic and St Lawrence Rail Road, by the Brokers to leave to sell their stock in London and elsewhere, and various other moves on the same subject, leave Maine at liberty to pursue her own policy,—which is to let her own citizens have the direction of the matter If Boston brokers can sell our stocks, we can do it for ourselves and retain the profits in our own hands To place ourselves and our stock in the right position we must retain a controlling interest in the road — As soon as the $1,000,000 a subscribed in Maine, the corporation can at once place the matter on the right foundation and the stock will then be fairly in the market Every one we see at once the necessity of guarding the interest of Maine at he outset

Yours truly A

A View of the Rate of Foreign Wages

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

CONTINUED

Monsieur Dupin has stated 42½ cents per day as the average payment in the northern, and 37 cents in southern provinces for a day's work and this does not include subsistence

The following list taken from Dr Bowrings report in 1834 will show the earning of the different artizans

Gunsmiths,	66 cts
Jewellers,	66 "
Toymen	57 "
Butchers are boarded and earn from $187 to $225 per annum
Bakers per day 75 cents
Brewers are boarded and earn $95 per year
Hatters, Carpenters, cart wrights, and shoe makers 56 cts per day
Masons, millwrights, tinmen, masons, joiners saddlers, ship builders 56 cents
Painters, guilders tilers and watch makers, 75 cents
Tailors 75 cents to $1 50 per day
Blacksmiths and coopers 56 cents per day
Day labor, 37½ per day

The Government on the works pay 36 francs or $6,75, per calender month With regard to the food of these workmen the laborers live very economically not expending more than from 16 to 17 cents per diem In the morning they repair to the low eating houses called Gargotes where for 7 cts they get soup with a pale of meat and vegetable and carry the meat away with them for dinner

Thus these 7 cents with two pounds of bread 7 cts and 2 cts worth of coarse wine will make 16 cents

The masons, paviers lockamiths &c., spend in addition 5 or 6 cents for supper making 21 to 22 cts a day

Carvers, gilders, saddlers, painters, &c spend about 30 cents per diem

Soup and meat breakfast,	7½c
Dinner 7½, wine 6 sous,	13½
2 pounds of bread,	9
	30 cts

The higher part artisans spend from 30 to 40 cents per diem

The food varies in the different districts; in that part called 'Landes' (Heath) the food consists of rye bread, soup made of millet, and cakes of indian corn

Now and then some salt provisions and vegetables, rarely, if ever, fresh meat, their drink water when for the most part is stagnant

In the south of France the peasantry live better, they eat wheaten bread, soup made of vegetables and a little grease and lard, but seldom butcher's meat, their drink weak wine The luxuries of tea, &c are quite unknown

By living in this abstemious manner they are enabled to lay something by at the end of the year

In Alsace where they are more a manufacturing people an eminent manufacturer says

"They live from hand to mouth, the least ill or want of work at all prolonged, plunges them into a state of profound misery They feed themselves irregularly, their houses are dirty which contribute to render their physical state worse than that of the English workmen

In Switzerland it is impossible to make a comparison with other countries

The pecuniary amount of wages is at all times a fallacious index to the well condition of the laborer

In Switzerland, it is peculiarly so owing to the intermixture of agricultural and artizan occupations a vast number of the working classes producing a portion of their own subsistence

The price of food and lodging is so moderate in the neighborhood of Langen that an adult is able to support himself with ease on 10 cents per day

A very important effect results to the economy of wealth from this junction of manufacturing and agricultural industry by the same persons as an augmentation must accrue to the production and consequently to the wealth of the country

A The Swiss agriculturist occupies himself at the loom not only in the evening but in bad weather and during the winter while the English farm laborer is idle

From the African Colonies—Piracy by a British Commander.

We have, says the N Y Sun, our regular files from Monrovia, Liberia, to the 10th of June inclusive

The British authorities persist in their hostility to our colonies. The only vessel belonging to the colonists of Berea Cove, the schooner John Seys, has been seized by the British man of war Lily and conveyed to Sierra Leone, to be sold as a prize She belonged to Stephen A Benson, and was engaged in the coast trade when seized, 15th April The officer in charge of her at the time of seizure, requested the British commander to respect the colonial flags to which he replied

"I don't recognize your colors, you are no nation, neither are you under the patronage of any nation The authority that granted your papers is not a recognized one, and what right has the d—d Yankees to place colors on the coast of any how? Your colors I deem good for nothing"

This is a heartless outrage upon a feeble colony, but in keeping with the infamous character of English policy One of the crew of the John Seys is missing, and is supposed to have been murdered by the official pirate belonging to H B M ship Lily The object of the seizure appears to be the destruction of Capt Benson's palm oil trading posts along the coast, so as to divert the trade from American to English vessels The British officers rifled the J S of the most valuable articles on board

☞ The U S Brig Truxton had captured an American slaver, the name of which is not mentioned She was fitted out at New Orleans, and was found in the Rio Nunez, a notorious haunt for slavers

The Steamer Bangor left Boston at 2 o'clock yesterday and will probably arrive this afternoon

Population of Worcester.

A census of Worcester has been taken, and according to the Spy the increase of the population in the last five years has been fifty four per cent In 1840 the whole population was 7497 — In 1845 its 11,536 Well done, Worcester — The heart of the Commonwealth beats to a healthy tune

☞ The Treasurer of the United States reports seven millions seven thousand eight hundred and ten dollars and ninety two cents, on hand 26th ultimo Of this amount, the following Banks in N York have

His collection will no doubt receive the attention which it merits

Snake Story.

A Rattle Snake five feet long, and nine inches in circumference was killed in Concord, N H a few days since, by Mr Benjamin Hoyt. It had twelve rattles, from which it is inferred, that the reptile is fifteen years old Forty nine eggs were found in it Speaking of snakes, the Reading Pa Democrat tells the following story

"A black snake, upwards of 7 feet in length, was captured one day of last week on the White Spot, above Reading It was discovered by some men while loading up cord wood, and in its attempt to escape, it glided into a hollow piece of wood which was immediately closed up and the snake secured

Thus fastened up in its prison, it was brought to town and taken to George Goodheart's public house, when the doors and windows were closed and the plug removed to get a peep at its snakeship It instantly rushed out, reared on its tail, and extended its awful jaws for mortal combat The landlord and two of his dogs were present and they escaped with difficulty from the fangs of the enraged reptile

After recovering from the fright, and bracing their nerves, they attempted to re capture it and in the mean time it had mounted the shelves of the bar, and was making end work—throwing down the rum decanters and had perpetrated considerable damage, when Mr Abbot of the Reading Museum was sent for, and after many manœuvring for some time, and teasing the snake up to ascertain his nature, he seized the critter behind the ears, a desperate struggle ensued, which severely tried Mr Abbot's strength, and the snake was again forced into his hole, where he is now confined

'John who was the wisest man?' 'Don't know, sir' 'Yes you do Tell me!' 'Well, I guess it was uncle Zeke; for father says he was so cunning that he got everybody to trust him, and wasn't fool enough to pay nobody'

As some one was eulogizing a Bishop of Louisiana, who died while a missionary, a Missouri Indian who was present replied, 'Oh, yes he was very good and tender' 'You knew him then?' said the former. 'Knew him? yes indeed—I ate some of him'

The greatest compliment ever paid by one military character to another, was said by Frederick the Great to Washington "Your hand is an army, and his head a state council"

Hayti.

Mrs. Mary Weston Chapman, a Boston lady who visited the Island of St. Domingo, three or four years ago with her husband, before the present trouble had come to a head, is publishing sketches of Hayti, as she saw it, from one of which the following paragraphs are taken

"Come sir, then, and join our afternoon ride It will afford you specimens of one description of Haytien peasant—the independent dweller under his own banana and orange tree, with none to molest or make him afraid, as he is to be seen in the neighborhood of a commercial city

"When you look at those mountains from the sea, as you approach the Island, or from the city at their feet after your arrival, you will be struck with their utter loneliness They seem truly to the brothers of the thunder, and to own no companionship lower than those golden clouds the roll along their sides before the wind

"But you will find yourself mistaken when you ascend them, if you suppose you are alone The mountain is half of people, whose cottages and small patches of cultivation are hidden from the eye by the same luxuriant foliage that catches and disperses into drops the flying cloud Your little path winds as near the unseen dwellings that their proximity is betrayed by the crowing of the cock, the barking of the dog, the song of the solitary youth, whose cutlass you can hear cropping the bright green guinea grass for to morrow's market, or the cheerful laugh of the woman, wash no the linen of the city in the rushing river These hidden dwellings are the loveliest spots on earth From some of them you may watch the sea, and the distant ships, over the top of a lower mountain, and, to do the dwellers justice, they enjoy the sight with a zest which a commonly thought cannot resist but in company with a good degree of mental cultivation Yet here the peasant lives from youth to age, unencumbered with the alphabet, and all knowledge is sorrow, is one of the happiest beings on earth But then he can learn if he chooses There is no law to prevent it and plenty of time, and only a mile or two below him, a good public school for elementary instruction, and the higher classes are exceedingly desirous that he should profit by the opportunity

"We always descended the mountains to our home at sunset, on the edge of the sea, the whole way covered for a mile with the most enchanting flowers and the fragrant culine in full flower, from which the sea breeze swung the passion flower and the reglisse against our faces, declaring that if we had not been born Americans we knew not the country and the many lands we visited that we should have more loved to call our own, than this Hayti

"The burdens of the lowest people are lighter and the obstacles to rising in the social scale are less, to those who wish it than in any other land

We put the following from the New York Herald,—why make fish of one and flesh of another? Does not the church say that slavery is no sin—and does not slavery in all the South legalize its victims? But any wonder that James G Bennett laughs religion to scorn and more read him than any other Journal in America Is not the cause of God and christianity but eyed by its professed friends? We speak in the form of a question—we say that we consider Bennett a fast friend of morality and all true conservatism compared with any man or set of men who give he sanction of their sanctimony to slavery —True American

The developements that are daily making among us, fill us with really most startling—since the ball was set in motion by the late Bishop Onderdonk, it appears as if a perfect mania had seized the mighty respectable gentry who under the cover of the sanctified cloak, assume to themselves all the piety and morality of the goodness sanctity and religion, seeking the slightest particle of place to screw and wedging from them in opinions, are at once set down by us as benighted souls who are in the broad way that leads to destruction It is with sorrow we note these now almost daily occurrences of individual delinquency among the clergy but it is a fact, table fact and I shall so treat it I shall leave him and yet be engaged in the first of the religious, despite all the [illegible] that has lately taken place on [illegible] Or is reprimanded and or is suspended, or the cash end entirely, and many an one of true conservatism compared with any man or set of men who give he sanction of their sanctimony to slavery —True American

Some notorious fellow having threatened to assassinate Prentice of the Louisville Journal, the editor gives notice that he may be found at home at all times, and expresses a hope that his antagonist may have the use of his limbs when he visits Louisville, as the last time he was there he wore a pair of hand cuffs

A little son of Mr Easton, in New York, drank an ounce and a half of spirits of turpentine, carelessly left within his reach. He immediately fell into extremities became cold, his face livid, and he was apparently dead Mr Easton instantly got a bottle of salad oil from another room broke off the top by smashing it on the table and poured the contents down the child's throat In ten minutes the contents of the stomach were thrown up and the child saved, although he suffered dreadfully all night The presence of mind of the mother well deserved the precious reward of the life of her babe, which would in a quarter of an hour have been gone forever In all cases of poisoning let every body remember that a liberal dose of oil (any kind) is the very best immediate remedy that can possible be procured

Characteristics of the Nations.

Nearly one third of Pittsburg was destroyed by fire last April, and now, only four months after, three fourths of the burnt district is covered with splendid new buildings Three hundred build ngs were burnt down in this city on the 19th of last month, and now two weeks after three thousand men are actively employed in clearing away the ruins, preparatory to rebuilding, and fifty or sixty contracts are already made for new stores On the 28th of May and 28th of June one half of Quebec was destroyed by fire and now six weeks after, scarcely anything has been done to erect new buildings in the place of those burned —N Y Tribune
